

WATER CYCLE COMIC STRIP

Create a comic strip about a water drop as it goes through the water cycle.

Put together a booklet or comic that tells the story of a water drop on its journey through the water cycle. You can use this template, or a spare piece of paper and pencil/markers to draw it out. Tell the story from the first-person perspective - as though you are the water drop! Think about your local water cycle and try to include the Spokane River, the Spokane Valley Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer, and the snow on top of Mt. Spokane!
